Value: As a rough estimate of this coins value you can assume this coin in average condition will be valued at somewhere around $3, while one in mint state (MS) condition could bring $350 at auction if certified. This price does not reference any standard coin grading scale. So when we say average, we mean worn as would be expected from a coin in this age, and mint state meaning MS+ grade and certified*.

Extra Info: The 1935 (d) Denver minted coins are the rarest and thus most expensive of the Mercury Dimes this year. With just over 10 million made, if you can get one for a decent price have at it. These are also 90% silver. When buying or selling Mercury Dimes full bands are key.
