

Type: Abraham Lincoln Dollar

Year: 2010

Mint Mark: D

Value: As a rough estimate of this coins value you can assume this coin in average condition will be valued at somewhere around $1, while one in mint state (MS) condition could bring $4 at auction if certified. This price does not reference any standard coin grading scale. So when we say average, we mean worn as would be expected from a coin in this age, and mint state meaning MS+ grade and certified*.

Face Value: 1.00 USD

Total Produced: 48,000,000 **

Silver Content: 0%

Extra Info: The United States Mint in anticipation of the popularity of the 2010 Abraham Lincoln Dollar minted 25 million more of these coins than any other presidential dollar for 2010. This explains why the 2010 Abraham Lincoln Dollars are not valued a little higher than the others. Yes Mr. Lincoln is one of the most well known presidents, but the excess supply created by the mint negates any worth/value that would have been created by that popularity. Look for errors on the ridge of this coin. Missing or weak lettering, and possibly double strikes and extra stars exist.
