

Type: Roosevelt Dime

Year: 1965

Mint Mark: No mint mark

Value: As a rough estimate of this coins value you can assume this coin in average condition will be valued at somewhere around 10 cents, while one in mint state (MS) condition could bring $15 at auction if certified. This price does not reference any standard coin grading scale. So when we say average, we mean worn as would be expected from a coin in this age, and mint state meaning MS+ grade and certified*.

Face Value: 0.10 USD

Total Produced: 1,652,140,000 **

Silver Content: 0%

Extra Info: This was the first year that the US stopped making silver dimes. That means these coins are worthless as far as there value to a silver collector. The post 1964 dimes are made of what collectors commonly call copper-nickel. A blend of copper and nickel covering a copper core in this case. The value of the metal in this coin is now .02 or 2 cents. Roughly 1/5 the face value.

Where are the other 8 cents you ask? Who knows.
